

GDPR

As you are almost certainly aware, the GDPR regulations came into force on the 25th May 2018 across the EU. Robertson Geo, as a responsible company, wants to ensure that we are legally and ethically compliant.

The now current GDPR regulations demand that we give even greater consideration to the management of your information and the way we communicate with you. As a result, we have recently reviewed and audited our procedures and remain confident that our management system ensures the safety of your data with regard to current regulations and into the future.

To be clear, we do not sell data to third parties and your data will only be processed by Robertson Geo with regard to the services and products we offer. You can request access to the information we hold on you and request deletion, or amendment, at any time.

While compliance with GDPR is important, it is even more important for us to confirm we are only contacting people who are happy to hear from us. You are currently registered on our database as an active potential purchaser. This is because you have either requested information on our services or products. We have no wish to contact you with irrelevant information. However, after reviewing your record, we will continue to send you information which appears to match your requirements and interest, and is in the legitimate interest of either you, or our Company.

If you are happy to continue to receive communications from Robertson Geo relevant to market information transfer or you remain an active potential purchaser - then there is no need for you to contact us, or take any action, at this time.

However, we take the Regulations, and your privacy, very seriously. If you wish to be removed from our database and no longer be sent our messages, please click here to send an unsubscribe request, and the account associated with your email address will be deleted from our system. Should you elect not to opt-out and unsubscribe today, but wish to remove your registered account in the future, every email we send to you will include an unsubscribe option, which we will action immediately upon receipt.

Should you have any questions or concerns regarding Robertson Geo or GDPR generally, please contact dijones@robertson-geo.com

Thank you.

Scan the QR code to go directly to www.robertson-geo.com

